Past Life Regression Therapy

is considered one of the most powerful tools available for transformation in the fields of integrative medicine, psychology and self awareness. The effectiveness of past life recall created a demand for therapists skilled in regression techniques. In 1980, a group of more than 50 past life therapists convened to create the Association for Past Life Research and Therapies (later renamed the International Association for Regression Research and Therapies, Inc.). The association has become an internationally recognized organization with members holding conferences throughout the world.

Purposes

- The progressive application of Past-Life Therapy.
- Promotion of research in this field.
- Establishment of clinical standards for training Past-Life Therapists.
- Provision of a communication network for the exchange of information and experience.

Objectives

- To direct effective treatment so individuals become aware of their capacity to change and improve conditions in their lives; physical or psychological.
- To enhance and broaden effectiveness of those already engaged in Past-Life work through means of seminars, workshops and conferences.
- To maintain a system of registration for those members meeting established qualifications.
- To promote a program of education which integrates the dynamics of Past-Life Therapy.
- To inform the public of the dynamics and parameters of Past-Life Therapy.
